MELLON AND LAVAL HOLD CONFERENCE

Action of Parliament Does Not Provide For Any Change In Acceptance VISITS AT EMBASSY

Treasury Head Expects to Get Little Support in Changing French Mind

PARIS, June 27.—(UP)—Preliminary conversations prior to the formal opening today of Franco-American negotiations on President Hoover's plan for a war debts holiday indicated that France does not intend to alter her reservation to the proposal.

Andrew W. Mellon United States secretary of treasury, was informed that Premier Pierre Laval would be forced to adhere strictly to the text of the cabinet's reply to the Hoover plan.

Laval's hands would be tied, Mellon was advised, by parliament's vote of confidence given him on the basis of the government's response to Hoover's war debts plan. He could go no further than that reply, it was emphasized.

Mellon will meet the premier late today, together with other members of the cabinet. His primary object, it was understood, was to get France to adhere fully to the Hoover plan for a war debts and reparations holiday of one year—an object defeated at the start if his government informant this morning advised him correctly.

The chamber of deputies approved the government's reply, with reservations, of President Hoover's plan. The ballot, taken after a bitter all-night session, was 288 to 189. It was this vote, which covered the French reply and nothing else, which forced the premier to go no further than he had said he would therein, it was stressed.

Mellon spent the entire morning and early afternoon at the American embassy, in discussion of the basis upon which he was to meet the French government officials in the afternoon. Although no official communiqué was expected from the embassy tonight, it was believed that some informal indication of the trend of the negotiations might be given at that conclusion.

Mellon's conference with Premier Laval, Minister Flandin, Briand and Pietri, began promptly at 3 p. m.

SEVERE STORM REPORTED OFF TEXAS COAST

Near Hurricane Expected to Reach Brownsville This Afternoon

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, June 27.—(UP)—A tropical storm was reported in the Gulf of Mexico today, 100 miles off the Texas coast, causing winds of between 50 and 60 miles per hour.

It was expected to strike the Texas coast between here and Brownsville this afternoon. Weather observer J. P. McAuliffe hoisted storm warnings here at 8 a. m.

He said a hurricane was not expected but that the wind would probably attain a velocity of 60 miles an hour as the storm passed inland, south of here.

The barometer stood at 29.84 here this morning, but was falling. The tide at the North Beach section of the city was three feet above normal.

Residents at Port Aransas and Mustang Island moved to the mainland for safety.

CRAIG NAMED ON WATER COMMITTEE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—(UP)—Every section of the state was represented on the new joint legislative water committee today by appointments of Lieutenant Governor Frank F. Merriam and Speaker Edgar C. Levey, of the state assembly.

The committee, which will report to the 1933 legislative session, will be composed of the following:

Truck Pilots Sue Driver Of Midget Car

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—(UP)—The latest midget automobile story is that one of them turned berserk and smashed a truck, but was itself undamaged.

The story came out in Municipal Judge James O'Brien's court when Kujo Sugiyama and Tom Yogo, co-pilots of the truck, asked damages of $67.50 from Emmet Wilent, pilot of the midget.

"It was afraid this would happen sooner or later," the judge said. "Two men piloting the truck couldn't keep out of the midget's way."

But you can't settle these matters offhand. The judge took it under advisement.

CALIFORNIA TO PROTEST OVER RATE INCREASE

Shippers, Growers, Business Men to Meet in Fresno Next Week

FRESNO, June 27.—(UP)—California fruit growers, shippers and allied business men will gather here in two meetings early next week to organize against the 15 per cent freight rate increase asked of the interstate commerce commission by United States railroads this week.

The biggest gathering is expected Tuesday afternoon when fruit industry leaders from all parts of the state will meet under the sponsorship of the California growers' and shippers' protective league. Five hundred members have been invited.

Among those expected are A. V. R. Klein, secretary-manager of the San Joaquin grower-shippers association; H. W. Wrightson, secretary of the California vineyardists' association; Herbert Hazeltine, of the American Fruit growers; Scott Ennis, of the Pacific Fruit exchange; Charles Brennan, of the California Fruit exchange; and Frank H. Busk, president of the league sponsoring the meeting.

A. Setrakian, member of the league, said the meeting not only would be offered a resolution protesting the freight increase asked, but also would request a reduction in refrigeration charges.

Dignitaries Are Present Early Today

Representatives of Many States on Hand When Switch Is Thrown

BOULDER CITY, Nev., June 27.—(UP)—A one million, five hundred thousand dollar power line which will carry the power necessary to the construction of Hoover dam was dedicated today on the bank of the Colorado river six miles west of Boulder City.

While the sun beat down upon representatives of Southern California and Nevada cities in the Hoover dam area at the rate of one hundred and fifteen degrees, A. B. West, president of the Nevada California Electric corporation, threw the switch which inaugurated the flow of power through the 132 kilowatt circuit which has a maximum capacity of 132,000 volts.

"What this will mean in the development of mineral and industrial resources," said West, "we can perhaps best guess who have seen what our lines have made possible of accomplishment in the Mojave and Colorado deserts."

The $1,500,000 line runs from the Hoover damsite to San Bernardino, California. Its purpose is to furnish electric power to the United States government to be used in the construction of the dam and appurtenant works, to supply Boulder City with light and power and to be used in the return of power to

LABOR FEDERATION OFFICIALS ANSWER WRITER'S CHARGES

WHEELING, W. Va., June 27.—(UP)—West Virginia state and labor officials today answered charges made by Theodore Dreiser, the novelist, against the American Federation of Labor by defending the federation as "an organization based upon American ideals as opposed to Communism."

Harry Norrington, vice president of the State Federation of Labor, said the American Federation had always discouraged radicalism. He declared that the National Miners' union, which is sponsoring strikes in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio, fostered Communist ideals.

FLIERS SEEK REST

BEVERLY HILLS, June 27.—[To the Editor of The Register:] Mr. Mellon has got a tough job. He has to go to Paris and explain to the French that it's better if Germany didn't pay anything for a year. Now when you start in telling France something about Germany that's kinder like explaining politics to Calvin Coolidge; it can't be done. France will say "That's fine, Mr. Mellon, from a Pittsburgh angle, but we happen to live right across the river from 'em and we know what's going to happen to us as soon as they are able again. What are you trying to do, shorten our lives one year?"

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

MAYOR PORTER IS WELCOMED HOME BY 2000

One of First Acts Is to Drink Rousing Toast in Orange Juice

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—(UP)—Mayor John C. Porter returned here today from a trip that took him to France with other American mayors and one of his first acts was to drink a rousing toast—in orange juice.

The mayor was given a tremendous ovation when he stepped from his train to greet some 2,000 constituents, most prominent among whom were prohibition leaders.

And before the cheering had died away the mayor was discussing the widely publicized time in France when he declined a toast in wine.

"Your firm attitude placed you in a class with the highest type of individual in the country," shouted Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, state president of the W.C.T.U., "congratulations have poured in from

Monoplane Lands at Blagovestschensk, Siberia, and Pilots Take Rest

Expect to Fly Over Pacific Coast to Nome, Alaska

Vladivostok, Russia, June 27.—(UP)—The Winnie Mae, with Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, arrived at Blagovestschensk (CQ) this evening, en route from Irkutsk.

The landing was made at 1 p. m. G.M.T. (8 a. m. E.S.T.), the plane sinking into a mud hole as they came down to the field. Despite this narrow escape at accident, the from where they expected to make their flight towards Khabarovsk, about 8 p. m.

When they reached Blagovestschensk, the fliers were more than half way around the world. They had covered 8750 miles of their projected 15,000-mile flight.

Blagovestschensk is on the Amur river on the northern border of Manchuria, 1050 miles east of Irkutsk. It is only 400 miles west of Khabarovsk, close to the Pacific, from where they expected to make the 2300-mile flight to Nome.

LAND AT IRKUTSK

IRKUTSK, Siberia, June 27.—(UP)—Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, American world fliers, landed here at 10:55 a. m. (10:55 p. m. E.S.T., last night) today from Novo-Sibirsk.

They refueled their swift monoplane Winnie Mae and took off again for Khabarovsk, in the Amur valley, near the border of Manchuria, at 1:10 p. m. (1:10 a. m. E.S.T.). Khabarovsk is roughly 1350 miles distant, along the Trans-Siberian railway.

INVENTOR GRANTED TELEVISION PATENT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—(UP)—Years of patience and struggle by Phillip John Walsh, San Francisco inventor, were rewarded today with a patent issued by Washington authorities for his "pulsation compensator," a device he claims may revolutionize radio and television broadcasting.

Working in a makeshift laboratory for a dozen years, Walsh has perfected a method of operating radio sets and vacuum amplifiers with ordinary house current electricity, eliminating rectifiers and filters.

Walsh claims that by eliminating amplifiers and other radio parts now in use his device obtains tones free from distortion. It also may have an important bearing on current experiments in television.

Smith Resigns As Head of Whittier School for Boys

WHITTIER, Cal., June 27.—(UP)—Claude S. Smith, superintendent of the Whittier state school, has tendered his resignation, it was announced today by a member of the board of directors.

His resignation is to take effect July 15, it was said. No reason was given for his resignation.

Smith recently was appointed to the post of superintendent of Governor James Rolph Jr. following the dismissal of Kenyon Scudder.

After Scudder had been dismissed as superintendent of the Whittier state school, a citizens' committee was organized to campaign against dismissal of institution heads without alleged justifiable cause.

Smith's resignation came within a few hours of a meeting between the citizens' committee and Dr. J. M. Toner, head of the state department of institutions, scheduled to be held in Los Angeles late today.

Report Gambling Ship To Operate Off County Coast

CLAIM PIER AT BALBOA LEASED FOR SEA TAXIS

Operation of a gambling ship off the Orange county coast with use of a pier at Balboa as a base of operations may be expected within the next two weeks, unless plans of the organization back of the scheme go awry. It was learned from an authoritative source today.

A large boat is being secured at San Francisco for the venture, it is reported by persons having information on the subject and a dock at Balboa has already been leased at a rental of $100 monthly to serve as the headquarters of water taxi service to and from the ship of chance. The boat is to be leased for a cut of 10 per cent of the net gambling profits, according to the story of plans that are being completed which was disclosed today by a resident of one of the beach cities.

The gambling ship is scheduled to have a broadcasting station and some solicitations have been made for advertising contracts for programs from this station, it is said.

While District Attorney Sam L. Collins and Assistant District Attorney S. B. Kaufman were out of their offices today and could not be reached for a statement on what action that office might take if such a plan were put into operation, previous statements from the district attorney's office indicate that efforts will be made to halt operation of water taxis from any point in Orange county to gambling ships.

A drive against the gambling fleet now in operation off Long Beach is planned by officials of that city and Los Angeles county, it is reported from Long Beach, and co-operation of the Orange county prosecutor has been pledged according to an announcement from Deputy District Attorney William Brayton, of Los Angeles county. Brayton said he is calling a conference of officers to plan a simultaneous raid on the ships.

Conviction of seven water taxi operators at Long Beach who have been hauling passengers to the floating casinos, which recently was secured in the Long Beach Municipal court, has been upheld by the appellate court, and City Prosecutor John K. Hull, of the beach city, has announced that he plans a new drive against the water taxis and gambling operators on the basis of information and evidence his office has secured since the ships resumed operations six weeks ago.

Further drives against operation of the ships within six miles from shore at Long Beach, are being planned by Brayton, it is reported, on the contention that Newport Beach and Point Pinos are the headquarters of San Pedro bay and the high seas would thus be placed at a distance of more than six miles from shore. He cites a ruling of the U. S. Supreme court in support of this contention. The case in question supported a ruling of the state fish and game commission against operation of fishing boats on the grounds that the three mile limit off Monterey began from an imaginary line drawn between the town headquarters of Monterey bay, which is six miles from shore.

The gambling ships are now located about four miles off shore.

PREDICT $600,000 GATE FOR BIG BOUT

CLEVELAND, June 27.—(INS)—At least 60,000 persons and possibly 75,000, will witness the world's championship heavyweight battle between Max Schmeling, German titleholder, and Young Stribling, Georgian contender, here July 3.

Based on Promoter Dick Dunn's estimates that ticket prices will average about $10 each, his figures for attendance mean the fight will draw a gate of around $600,000 or $750,000.

NORTHERN OHIO RECOVERS FROM DEATH STORM

the cause of the storm to various reasons. Some believed it was a water spout, starting off the shores of Lake Erie. G. Harold Noyes, chief of the Cleveland weather bureau, said it was "a very severe" local thunder shower, confined to a 30-mile area.

Bay village residents said a funnel shaped cloud suddenly darted into view from the northwest, dipped into the lake where it attracted great sheets of water and then raced to shore. As the cloud struck shore, they said, water spouted into the air hundreds of feet.

The storm struck with abrupt suddenness, lashing the Lake Erie region from Toledo to Conneaut and as far southward as Columbus. Borne by a 50-mile gale, the storm struck Cleveland to the accompaniment of hail, lightning and a deluge of rain, halting a heat wave of the last week and sending temperatures tumbling below 60 degrees.

Some anxiety was felt for shipping craft, but a check revealed no vessels missing.

Cleveland was probably worst hit by the storm, which swept over the city about noon. It was preceded by an earlier storm which plunged the city into darkness.

Lightning kindled fires and killed three persons. One man was killed while fishing from a dock. Another death was reported in Toledo, where William Leonhardt Jr., 5, was drowned when a small boat in which he and four others were riding, capsized. Fred Frantz, 34, was killed when he picked up a live wire.

The tempest shattered thousands of window panes, injuring more than a score of persons in Cleveland alone from flying glass. Houses and small structures were unroofed. Trees were uprooted and telephone and telegraph poles were snapped off, blocking highways. Toledo also was hard hit by the storm.

Traffic League Asks Elimination Of 2000 Crossings

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—(UP)—The sixth annual convention of the Municipal Traffic League of California ended today with a plea for elimination of 2000 grade crossings in the state.

A. G. Mott, chief engineer for the state railroad commission, said this measure, which would cost $200,000,000, was necessary for the safety of motorists. He also pointed out the need of an $8,000,000 plan to place warning signs on 8600 other crossings.

Other problems taken up included criticism of traffic officers and judges for laxity in punishing traffic violators, traffic regulations that have proved detrimental to business, and construction of highways to combine greater speed with greater safety.

'DEAD' BALL FAILS TO HAMPER BAMBINO

NEW YORK, June 27.—(UP)—While other free-swinging sluggers have wasted their time hemming the "dead" ball, Babe Ruth has been banging away with all of his usual energy and as mid-season approaches the New York Yankee star is leading both major leagues in hitting.

The "dead" ball may have reduced the frequency of Ruth's home runs but that it cannot spoil his batting eye is proven by the official statistics, including games of Thursday, which show Babe with .399.

Ruth's chief competition is coming from American league rivals. National league hitters, working under the additional handicap of a heavy cover on the ball, have been unable to approach American league marks and Harvey Hendrick, Cincinnati first baseman, still tops the senior circuit batsmen with .372.

all parts of the county commending your stand."

"One of the most difficult things I had to do in France was to avoid drinking and at the same time keep the respect of the people there," Mayor Porter answered. Accompanied by friends and various city dignitaries the mayor moved from the depot to city hall.

There, in a jocular ceremony, the mayor, Councilman Thomas Cooke and Robert Burns, and Chief of Police Roy Steckel drank the toast in orange juice.

Then the mayor assured newspaper men that those stories about the toast in France and about the visit to a gingerbread factory "were all wrong."

"When we went into the French mayor's chambers," Mayor Porter said, "there was a long table loaded down with all sorts of wines. The room was crowded and my wife and I were on the outskirts of the crowd."

"Not caring to participate in the drinking we went to look at some beautiful paintings. When we returned a newspaper correspondent asked why we left. I told him I didn't even know a toast had been offered and I didn't."

Mayor Porter said that he always responded to toasts in France by lifting his glass but not drinking. He said that it was mighty hard to get drinking water in France and "when we did get it, it usually was very bad."

"Every time we sat down to eat there were five glasses on the table in front of us. Four were for wine and the fifth for water but nobody troubled to fill the fifth unless we asked."

The mayor said he did not visit any gingerbread factory and that he had gone to several wineries.

"Many French dishes were cooked in wine and I found some of them excellent," he concluded this phase of his trip.

During the interview, E. J. Fleming, a personal friend, sat at the mayor's side and cautioned the mayor not to answer questions about local political affairs.

When he first stepped from the train the mayor greeted Chief Steckel with the remark: "I see by the headlines that the town is wide open."

"Don't worry, mayor," the chief answered. "The lid is clamped down tighter than when you went away."

The reference was to charges by Thomas James, discharged policeman, who, in seeking re-instatement to the force, claimed that city leaders were in league with vice and that Los Angeles was wide open.

James also claimed that Mayor Porter was a "hypocrite and a clever politician who pretended to be what he was not." He said that under Steckel it was not safe to turn in reports of vice conditions. James discharge was affirmed by a police board and he has threatened to take the case to the courts.

The mayor's trip to France was an invitation of the French government and was extended in recognition of honors bestowed by American cities upon the French transatlantic fliers, Coste and Bellonte.

War Resolution Creates Stir At Church Convention

LONG BEACH, June 27.—(UP)—A resolution urging the exemption of members of the Methodist Episcopal church from military service in time of war, presented at a church conference here late yesterday, had precipitated a bitter battle in the ranks of clergymen today.

The resolution was not acted upon by members of the Southern California conference of the church and it was predicted it would die in committee.

But its presentation had the effect of a bombshell, for numerous clergymen who had served as chaplains during the war were strong in protest against it.

California when the dam power houses are built.

The contract was awarded on October 28, 1930. Work was started December 30 and the line was ready for testing thirty days before the government time limit of 240 days.

The line, after today's dedication, was ready for the inspection of a group, headed by Congressman Frank Murphy, of Ohio, which now is inspecting declamation and national parks. Congressman Murphy is accompanied by Dr. Elwood Mead, commissioner of reclamation. They are expected here in a few days.

The operating building of the Hoover dam and of the line is located at an altitude of 1450 feet, more than 800 feet above the Colorado river.

Five millions pounds of steel towers, 1,100,000 pounds of conductors and 50,000 suspension insulators were used to construct the line. Of the 2000 men now at work on Boulder dam approximately 500 were at Boulder City when the dedication took place. The remainder were at work at other points.

Announcement!

Effective July 1, 1931, the following banks of Santa Ana and vicinity will make service charges of fifty cents on all checking accounts having average balances during the month of less than $100.00. On such accounts there will be an additional charge of five cents per check on each check in excess of ten checks paid during the month. These charges will be entered against the accounts at the close of each month. No exemption will be made to depositors on account of having savings accounts.

Small accounts are welcomed and this charge is not made for the purpose of profit, but to partially reimburse the banks for service, and will not apply to savings accounts nor to the accounts of religious, charitable or educational organizations.

In making this charge it is not the purpose of the banks to gain a profit, or to drive the small depositor away, but to prevent a loss on a very great number of checking accounts.

The service charge has been installed as the result of a careful analysis of banking expenses which have greatly increased in recent years and is in harmony with better banking practices that have been put into effect generally throughout the country, and we hope our patrons will appreciate the soundness and fairness of this action.

JULY 1st — MONEY MOVING DAY

July 1st, 1928, just three years ago, this Building-Loan Association started in business, and during this time the association has enjoyed a steady and successful growth. We have financed more than 200 homes on an easy monthly plan, thus making it possible for that many families to own their own homes in Santa Ana and the immediate territory; helping the community to attain a higher type of citizen, as real home-owners add to the stability and integrity of your community.

During this time we have served more than 600 customers by having them invest their funds in our 6% certificates, paying them interest regularly every six months; which money we in turn have invested in this community, thereby lending aid and support to every kind of business. WE HAVE NO LOANS OUTSIDE OF ORANGE COUNTY.

The splendid THREE YEAR record of this association is partly due to the fact that the officers, directors and stockholders have given their full support and their close and loyal attention to the affairs of the association, and partly due to the confidence manifested in these men by the conservative citizens of Santa Ana and community. If you are one of these, we wish, on this Anniversary date, to thank you kindly for your part in making our first three years a success. If you are not a customer of this association, we invite you to come in and talk over our plan of investment with us. We offer you the maximum rate of interest on your money consistent with conservatism. Your investment is free from State, County and City taxes, and a part of your interest return is exempt from Federal Income Tax.

JULY 1st to 10th—the semi-annual money moving period—will soon be here. At this time thousands of people decide the future policy of their savings and reserve funds. We advise you to place your money in our full paid coupon certificates, and receive your interest every six months at the rate of 6%—NO SPECULATION—JUST A SAFE investment.

If you have funds in the east or any other place, we will gladly arrange the transfer for you without cost, and if your money is placed here before July 10th it will bear interest from July 1st. If you expect to be away on or about July 1st, you can arrange for the transfer before leaving.

The full value of this local Building-Loan Association can only be realized through a complete understanding of our principles, purposes and policies. Come in and talk them over with us.

REPORT SHOWS 5531 PRESENT IN FIRST WEEK

All attendance records were broken during the opening week of the city summer playground program, it was revealed today in attendance reports for the week just closing, which showed a total attendance, including the swimming pool and tennis courts, of 5531.

More than twice as many children took advantage of the supervised play sessions in the first week this year as attended during the first week last year, it is reported by L. W. Archer, playground supervisor. At the 10 playgrounds there was an attendance of 4318 this year, while at the seven playgrounds which were open last year there was an opening week's attendance of 1734.

The average per playground per day also shows a substantial increase, with the figure standing at 86.3 this year and 64 last year. Attendance at the high school outdoor plunge until 5 p. m. yesterday was 1078. At the high school tennis courts there was an attendance of 135 for the opening week, of which 60 were players and 75 were spectators.

Each of the playgrounds is under the supervision of two leaders who organize the work and maintain proper order. Instruction is also given in puppetry and music for those who wish it. The various work shops that are operated in conjunction with the playground program, also were centers of attraction.

The program, which is financed by the Santa Ana board of education and the city council, each body making an appropriation of $2000, also is supported by the Santa Ana P. T. A. federation and the chamber of commerce.

THREE WIVES GET DIVORCE DECREES

Interlocutory divorce decrees were granted three wives yesterday by Judge H. G. Ames after default hearings in department one of the Orange county superior court.

Two of the plaintiffs based their complaints on charges of desertion and failure to provide while the third cited charges of extreme cruelty.

The decrees on charges of desertion were granted to Alice C. Erdman from William T. Erdman and to Mildred Bentley from H. Roy Bentley. The Erdmans were married in 1917 and separated in 1929. They have one child. The Bentleys were married in 1927 and separated in 1930 and are the parents of one child. The Bentley case was filed in court yesterday and the decree granted the same day.

The third decree was granted to Mable Knottingham, of Costa Mesa, from Orville E. Knottingham. In this complaint the wife charges that her husband spent a great deal of his time visiting the wife of a neighbor. They were married in 1914 and separated last February.

CLAIM FRAUD IN POOL HALL SALE

Declaring that representations made in connection with purchase of a Santa Ana pool room were wholly false and fraudulent and that the plaintiffs had relied on these representations in making the deal, suit for rescission of an agreement and deed has been filed in superior court by J. Zirnitsky, et al, against A. R. Kelley, et al.

Plaintiffs assert that it was represented to them that the pool room had an income of $20 daily, whereas they claim the business did not exceed $10 daily and was not sufficient to pay costs. They ask that the agreement be declared null and void and that a deed of certain property which was transferred to the defendants be cancelled and the property ordered re-conveyed to them, or in the event the property cannot be re-conveyed that they be given judgment for $1000.

Backs Fails To "Spot" Bride In Family Circle

Although County Clerk J. M. Backs has issued tens of thousands of marriage licenses during the time he has operated as Cupid's aide in Orange county, and is usually able to spot a bride anywhere within sight, he was forced to admit today that his daughter, Edna Backs, who is a deputy in his office, had stolen a march on him. "Edna" as she is familiarly known about the court house, was married to Donald Squires, clerk in the state traffic department of office at the court house, on November 29, 1930, at Kingman, Arizona. Squires is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Squires, of Villa Park, members of a pioneer family of the county, as is also the Backs family. The bride and groom were schoolmates in Santa Ana high school. Mrs. Squires, who is now on a vacation, will resume duties in the clerk's office next Tuesday.

QUICK POLICE WORK LOCATES STOLEN MONEY

Fast work on the part of Officers Hansharger and Sherwood, of the Santa Ana police department, today was held responsible for the quick return of a money sack, containing $50 in bills and change, stolen from C. E. Schwenck, grocer, of 1203 South Main street, early today.

Schwenck opened the grocery store at 5:30 a. m., placing two sacks containing money on a bread box outside the store while he opened the doors. When he returned, one of the sacks were missing.

He called the police, told them that two newsboys were near the place at the time, and officers quickly ran them down. One of the boys knew nothing of the robbery, and the other is said to have admitted that he took the money and hid it at the Lathrop school building. It was quickly recovered.

The boy, 15, was taken to the county jail, where he was booked for robbery, but no complaint will be filed against him, it was said.

The various clubs of the city have been asked to co-operate with the council in sending worthy scouts to camp who, because of finances, would be unable to have an outing this summer. The scouts to be benefitted under this program will be selected by the scout executive, the selection being based upon the boys' records for the past year.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

The hardest lesson for any man to learn is to transform his desires, and that is the problem which now confronts you. With God's help you will succeed slowly but surely. You have been accustomed to take your desires more or less for granted, because they seemed worthy and good to you, and you seek to satisfy them. Now that some of these yearnings can not be gratified, the way is open for you to uplift your hopes and aspirations until they harmonize with those which actuate your best beloved in Paradise.

This does not mean that your manner of living and the tasks you perform have to be altered, but the emphasis is changed. What has seemed important becomes trivial and what appeared insignificant becomes momentous.

ANCE—Funeral services for the Rev. Thomas Vance, who passed away June 24, will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at the First Christian church, under the direction of Harrell and Brown; the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the church of holding. Interment in Fairhaven cemetery.

McCLURE PRESIDES AT KLAN GATHERING

S. S. McClure, internationally famous editor and publisher, acted as chairman at the public meeting of the Ku Klux Klan, which was held last night in the Modern Woodmen hall. He opened the meeting with the statement that an appeal is being made to all American citizens to organize into a group where their work will be effective and pointed out that the Klan has the largest membership of any organization in America.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. Van Dyke Todd, Baptist minister of Pomona, who was introduced by McClure. His subject was "Pure Americanism" and he declared that the American people have a priceless heritage of civil and religious liberty, but that every ideal they hold dear is at stake.

The speaker urged a return to many of the practices of the Pilgrim fathers, including replacement of the Bible in American schools. In speaking of "gangster rule" in many large cities the Rev. Mr. Todd declared that America had the finest system of law the world has ever seen, but lacked enforcement. He charged that crime conditions as they existed could not continue without co-operation of the police.

PER CAPITA CONSUMPTION OF ALCOHOL DECREASES 65 PER CENT IN PERIOD SINCE 1914

Col. Randolph, president of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, is fighting the 18th amendment, and states that today, Chicago is spending $3,000,000 a week for liquor. In 1906 Chicago spent $2,000,000 a week for liquor.

The increase of population in such that Chicago today is spending 90 per cent per capita of the cost of liquor in 1906. But liquor costs from four to 10 times as much as in 1906. Taking the smaller figure Chicago is drinking 22 1-2 per cent of the amount of liquor drank in 1906 per capita.

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment claims that consumption of liquor for a year is 9.95 per person, which at current bootleg prices costs $2,800,000,000. Comparing the quantity with 1914, the United States authorities conclude that the consumption of alcohol today is 35 per cent of what it was in 1914, a decrease of 65 per cent.

A very accurate test of the amount of alcohol drunk is the comparative prevalence of cirrhosis of the liver.

In England the manufacture and use of liquor in 1918 was about half what it was in 1914. The number of victims of cirrhosis of the liver decreased 58 per cent.

In New York City the average annual deaths from cirrhosis of the liver for the three years 1920-22 was 59 per cent of the average of three years 1910-1918.

In June, 1916, Dr. H. W. Wiley printed in the Medical Times an article on the Pharmacology of Alcohol. In this article Dr. Wiley writes:

"There are certain diseases of the liver, such as cirrhosis, in which alcohol is held to be most causative, and its numbing effects on the brain are well authenticated. The fact above noted that the brain and the liver are most tenacious of the alcoholic content gives support to the contention of the special injurious effects of alcohol upon these organs.

"Authors agree generally in the belief that the liver is especially the organ which is most seriously injured by alcoholic intoxication."

Any community where vital statistics are kept can determine in what degree prohibition succeeds or fails by a study of the death from cirrhosis of the liver.

In 1912 death from cirrhosis of the liver in the United States was 125 per thousand. In 1928 the rate was 7.5, which is the highest rate since prohibition. Judging by the statistics of cirrhosis of the liver for the last five years, as compared to the five years 1912-1916 inclusive, there has been a reduction in the actual amount of liquor drank of 65 per cent, which does not differ much from the estimate of the United States government of a reduction of 65 per cent.

The statistics of cirrhosis of the liver are as accurate a test as a thermometer is of the temperature.

COURT ORDERS THREE HELD IN ALIMONY CASES

Two husbands who had failed to comply with court orders in connection with payments to their wives were held in contempt of court and ordered into custody yesterday, while a bench warrant was ordered issued for the immediate arrest of a third who failed to appear in court after being ordered to do so in connection with an order to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for failing to comply with previous orders of the court.

S. E. Tingley and Jacob Yarowsky were the men who failed to make payments as previously ordered by the court and who as a consequence were adjudged in contempt yesterday by Judge H. G. Ames and ordered into custody until the court orders had been complied with. Sentences, however, were suspended in each instance for a period to permit the defendants to meet conditions imposed.

Tingley was granted a 10-day stay of execution and the hearing was continued until July 10. He had failed to make payments of $50 monthly as included in an order of Judge James L. Allen on December 26, 1930, in a separate maintenance action which had been filed by Mattie D. Tingley. Yarowsky had failed to pay immediate alimony of $80 to his wife, Bertha Yarowsky, and $100 attorney fees as set forth in a prior order of Judge Allen in the separate maintenance action brought by Mrs. Yarowsky. His sentence of commitment to the county jail until the money was paid was suspended for one week.

The third man who was in trouble as a result of failing to obey the court's orders was Clarence W. Hoefler. He did not appear at the time set for a hearing on an order to show cause, and the bench warrant was ordered issued, returnable forthwith. He had obtained an interlocutory divorce decree on a cross complaint to separate maintenance action of his wife, Dorothy Hoefler, but did not make payments of $50 monthly as ordered by the court in connection with a settlement between the parties.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Register:

In the eyes of the law—from the adoption of the constitution on down through the years—"all men are free and equal" and have equal rights in this America, whose very foundations lie upon the principle of democracy.

Unfortunately we in America, while despising the caste system of India, have allowed ourselves to think in terms of caste to such an extent that the humble citizen does not in actual practice receive the same rights accorded the person of wealth, regardless of how he may have acquired that wealth.

In Santa Ana, it has reached such a point that even some of our public officials and public employees forget the rights of citizens, who may now be poor, and resent any criticism or suggestions, unless made by some of the so-called "leaders" of the community, which means wealth, big taxes, and influence.

When a humble citizen and taxpayer appears before the local board of education this week representing the Good Government and Economy League, according to the Register report of the meeting: "The board refused to accept the communication on the grounds that officers and personnel of the League were not known and claimed that the communication therefore was of an anonymous character."

This organization, representing hundreds of Santa Ana taxpayers, and with the executive secretary and several of its active members definitely known, was not accorded the consideration which just one of the humblest citizens of the city is entitled to from public officials supposedly chosen to serve ALL the public. This would indicate that all Americans are free and equal, except when they appear before the Board of Education and become of an "anonymous character", by daring to disagree with the administration on matters of policy and principle affecting all residents of the city.

At the same meeting, according to the report in your paper, Dr. Davis stated that the transfer of 45 students, comprising three upper grades, from the Hoover school to Lincoln, would save taxpayers of the city $3000 per year and disperse with the services of two teachers. This, he said, would "result in better educational practice and better conditions for the children."

As we understand it, Dr. Davis favored the transfer, and members of the school board favored it also, as better educational practice and to affect a saving of $3000 per year. However, when a couple of attorneys, representing a group in the "northeast" section of the city, appeared before the board and asked that all Hoover grades be maintained, at the extra cost of $3000 a year, even if there were only three students in one class, the board flip-flopped and by a vote of two to one, gracefully granted the request.

There is something radically wrong with the attitude of mind of public officials when they try to brand as "anonymous" a communication from an organization of common people, personally presented, and at the same time spend $3000 of tax money, against their better judgment, to please a small group in a favored section of town, where, it was pointed out, "if the facilities of the school were cut it would result in stagnation or development of the district."

Such an appeal and such a course of action makes one wonder if schools are being so placed and maintained as to aid in certain real estate and subdivision development in Santa Ana, regardless of what it costs the taxpayers and how it affects educational practices.

If the spirit of democracy is sound and we believe in it as Americans, then the laborer is entitled to just as generous consideration from the law and public officials as the banker and director of the Chamber of Commerce. If Santa Ana is to be known as a friendly town, then friendliness must be cultivated with everybody, and not just a favored few who happen to be wealthy and in positions of influence.

The public, which is now taking a renewed interest in public affairs, want to see the "equal treatment to all" which so many candidates for office have promised prior to their election.

The immortal Robert Burns expressed it this way:

What tho' on hamely fare we dine,
Wear hoddie-grey, and a' that,
Gie fools their silks, and knaves their wine,
A man's a man, for a' that,
For a' that and a' that,
Their tinsel show, and a' that,
The honest man, tho' ne'er see poor,
Is king o' men for a' that.
Very truly yours,

laundry looks!

Of course if you really enjoy doing the family washing every week, that's one thing! But if, like most women you dread it and only do it from a mistaken sense of economy just want to suggest that for a single month let us do it for you and at the month's end balance up the small money cost against your greater freedom, our better health, our lack of back-ache—against the numerous compliments your husband will give you in your improved appearance and sweeter disposition not forgetting the fact that your clothes will look cleaner and be cleaner when you do them at home. And I think you'll feel like so many other Orange County women that we make a pretty small charge for the service we render.

BACKS REPORTS ON PERMANENT REGISTRATION

County Clerk J. M. Backs was back in his office yesterday after a trip to San Francisco, where he attended a meeting of the executive committee of the state association of county clerks.

Discussion of permanent registration details and formation of a uniform system for adoption by county clerks throughout the state was the feature of the meeting, he reported. Permanent registration was adopted as a constitutional amendment in the fall election last year and the legislature adopted necessary legislation during its recent session.

In order to keep his name on the permanent registration list a voter is required to vote at either the primary or general elections which are held every two years, and a form on which this record could satisfactorily be kept was evolved at the meeting, which also was attended by Robert Harrison, from the office of Attorney General U. S. Webb.

Under the new law voters must be registered in their precinct for at least 40 days prior to an election, in the county, 90 days and in the state one year.

Voters who fail to cast their ballots at either the primary or general elections every two years will be required to re-register before they may vote at succeeding elections. Otherwise their names remain permanently on the registration rolls.

Backs also advised that restrictions concerning absent voter balloting had been greatly modified and now anyone who would be away from his precinct on election day may vote by absent voter ballot, providing he will not be out of the state. Formerly only voters who were required to be away by reason of their occupation or those who were confined by illness were entitled to vote in this manner.

Provisions on the absent voter ballot extend down to municipal elections, Backs advised.

WATER FACTS PRESENTED AT CENTER MEET

The social meeting of the Garden Grove farm center, held Friday night at Oceanview schoolhouse, where Wintersburg, was presided over by Ralph Chaffee. About 150 residents of the district were present. Chaffee explained that Oceanview was in the Garden Grove farm center district and that the members decided to hold their meetings in different parts of the district.

The county flood control project was presented to the people through an illustrated lecture by M. N. Thompson, engineer of the flood control department. Engineer Thompson presented the full details of the flood control plan for Orange county.

The subject was presented more thru stereopticon pictures than by any attempt at oratory. Dog-ears of photographs of the rivers and creeks in the flood control project and of the area it will serve were shown.

Announcement was made of the meeting in Santa Ana, July 6, 7, 8 and 9 of the Western States Farm Bureau conference, which will be held in the Ebell club rooms. The first meeting will be at 7:30 o'clock in the evening of July 6 at which time the National Farm Bureau president will deliver an address. John W. Crill, county president of the farm bureau who was unable to attend the meeting last night.

Following the business session the audience was invited by Chairman Chaffee to the school cafeteria, where hot cream, cake and coffee were served. The serving committee comprising J. A. Murdy, M. N. Thompson, Ronald Flaherty and Clint Brush.

Bay Dredging Job Completed

NEWPORT BEACH, June 27.—The dredging job recently started by the Newport Beach Boat builders for the city of Newport Beach in front of the Newport Harbor Yacht club has been completed in fast time, it was made known today. More than 27,000 cubic yards of sand was removed in 12 days. The job cost $6100. It will provide considerable mooring space for yachts and other craft in that part of the bay.

REALTORS HEAR VOLLMER TALK ON EXCHANGES

Members of the Santa Ana Realty board heard two important phases of the exchange business discussed by an expert yesterday at their weekly luncheon in Ketter's cafe. Bernard A. Vollmer, organizer of the Exchange Bureau of Los Angeles and of the Realtors' Interchange, was speaker for the day and discussed "Logical and Illogical Exchanges and Inflation."

Vollmer, who is an exclusive exchange broker in Los Angeles and has been for the past 25 years, defined a logical exchange as one where "both parties attain their ends without it being at the expense of either party."

He cited examples of both logical and illogical exchanges that he had observed through his own experience. In exchanging country for city property he declared that the owner of the country property must put it in clear and trade for an unencumbered city property to make the deal equitable. The reason for this is that city property enhances in value more rapidly than country lands.

The owner of a good house in an old and unpopular section of the city must have his property clear and expect to assume a mortgage if he wants to trade it for holdings in a more popular section of the city.

Turning to the second phase of his talk, that part covered by the term "inflation," he declared, "the biggest problem of the real estate business today is inflation." Defining the term, he said that it is the "desire on the part of either or both parties of an exchange to get the better of the other," or is caused by a price placed upon property by an owner who does not want to squarely face the facts about his property.

Three other reasons for inflation were listed as: An agent too lazy or too indifferent to find out what the property he is handling is worth; an agent who wants to increase his commission, or by the owner and broker getting together and boosting the price of property involved.

Speaking on inflation, he stressed the fact that there is a vast difference between inflation and high prices. High prices are legitimate and based upon some neighborhood improvement or benefaction that naturally enhances property values.

The so-called 100 per cent financing proposal was scored by the speaker, who declared it to be the "most prolific cause for inflation and source of grief and lawsuits the real estate business is facing today." This system was described as something that gets the real estate agent into trouble, causes widows and aged couples to lose their property and is responsible for many of the buildings in Southern California that are standing incomplete.

The method of 100 per cent financing outlined by the speaker results in the owner, desiring to improve his property, assuming mortgages considerably in excess of the combined value of property and improvement, the speaker declared.

HIGHWAY BODY PREPARES FOR JULY OPENING

Plans for a celebration of the opening of the Hathaway Highway were discussed at a meeting of the highway committee Friday at the Long Beach Golf club. The committee perfected an organization and will meet next Friday morning at 8 o'clock to enjoy a breakfast and to complete plans for the opening celebration, which will be held the latter part of July.

The Hathaway highway gives a direct route to the Orange county coast line from the San Fernando valley and all territory that enters the Los Angeles and Orange county districts through the San Fernando valley and the Sepulveda tunnel. The Hathaway highway intersects the Coast Highway just west of the Anaheim road. It passes directly through the Seal Beach oil field and over the San Gabriel flood control across a new bridge erected at a cost of $200,000.

The new highway, not yet fully completed passes through Long Beach over State street to Wilmington and Harbor City and thence to Torrance and thence northwest to Inglewood and on to Brentwood Country club, continuing northwesterly to the entrance of the Sepulveda tunnel and thence through the tunnel to the San Fernando valley.

It passes around Los Angeles avoiding the city traffic in that city and in all cities, making a more direct, a shorter and a much quicker route from the San Fernando valley and inland points to the Orange county coast.

Three-fourths of the artificial flowers made in the United States are produced in New York.

MILK Keeps Eyes Bright and Happy

Summer days are play days. Are your youngsters well enough to be sparklingly healthy and gay, in spite of hot weather? They will be if you watch their diet, and keep them away from richly prepared, highly seasoned foods.

Milk alone contains all the elements that build wiry, sturdy little bodies, and keep eyes glowingly bright. Let your youngsters have two quarts a day—as a beverage and in foods, and they'll have their best summer.

RAITT'S MILK comes from selected farms, and its purity, freshness and wholesomeness are fully safeguarded.

SCHOOL WORK TO BEGIN IN 3 WEEKS

WESTMINSTER, June 27.—Plans and specifications for the Westminster school were accepted at a meeting of members of the school board, Clyde Day, Armand Hell and Fred Basse, and Architects Howard Austin, of Long Beach, and Alfred Bonney, of Santa Ana.

Improvements will cost $5,000 and will take about seven weeks for the work. The remodeling is expected to start within three weeks.

The improvements call for a number of changes in arrangement of the present building and a 16 foot addition the entire width of the auditorium both upstairs and down. The present stage room is to be thrown into the auditorium proper and the halls and stairways on the south of the building are to be taken out and thrown into the auditorium space, giving natural ventilation for the auditorium. The stairways will be re-arranged to go down through the cloak rooms of the eighth and sixth grades. The present cafeteria room which was condemned for use on account of lack of ventilation will be extended to the front of the building and corresponding space on the other side will give room for an office on the south of the building, where two large doors will be cut as the main entrance. The library and supply rooms will be segregated.

Next week the Brea Nazarene Sunday school will hold a picnic and numerous smaller organizations have made reservations. On July 4 members of the Bellflower First Christian Reformed church will spend the day at the park. The lily ponds, conceded to be the most beautiful in Southern California, the cacti gardens, the wild flower and the rock gardens are centers of interest to the visitors while the plunge and tennis courts and baseball field offer varied amusement.

THE WONDROUS VOICE

By W. Remfry-Hunt

Texts—And they wondered at the gracious words.—Luke 4:22.

Never man spake like this man.—John 7:46.

One of the most beautiful and impressive things about our divine Lord must have been his winsome voice. What a spell it must have possessed. One of our texts supplies the crown for its spiritual coronation. And note: this musical encomium was echoed by one not in the sacred choir of the inner circle. It would seem a distinct loss that so much of the reservoir of gracious words was lost on the Syrian air. No aeriform radioactive waves were then known to exist. It is good that it was so; for the photophone of the divine voice must be as minus a quantity as the writing on the sand; or the material might have eclipsed the spiritual. Blessed are those to whom "listening in" is not yet a lost art, "for they know his voice; and a stranger they will not follow, for they know not the voice of strangers." Be it in cloistered devotion, or in the busy, drab, work-a-day and crowded streets of life, we must recover the voice if we would discover the lost radiance. The principle is of widest application. The soul is re-made in reflection, meditation, and communion—and the dying embers at an evening altar as also at the fireside murmur may become a prophet's tongue.

Jesus Changed Life's Accent

The voice of Jesus reconditioned religious thought. He did it in norm and in form. John Stuart Mill said: "It is inconceivable that religion may be morally useful without being intellectually sustainable." He fulfilled the law and initiated grace. Both the state and the church opposed him. The authoritative accent that impeached the Sanhedrin turned and hit him back as an unchurched wanderer. "Not as the scribes"—but "verily, verily"—noted a world of difference between Christ's message of reality and the encrusted bigotries of anachronistic creeds. Nor could they catch him in his words by debate or cynicism. His accent on revelations and inspiration was true. He showed the old was in the new contained. He proved the new was by the old explained. It is a beautiful gospel that love doth out-bound and outlive law, and a diviner philosophy that election is outdistanced by grace. It made all things new.

In the face of actual experience, however, it is still a debatable question that life's accent has been in reality changed. Science has made the world a neighborhood. Religion has not yet made it a brotherhood. Europe and Asia are as in an embattled bivouac awaiting the reveille. The voice that enthroned the sacredness of personality is drowned in the roar of enslavement for gilded dividends. Nor is the church clean of this indictment of false accent.

Translated Religion

Christ's challenge revolutionized life. It framed a new grammar. It set up a new arithmetic. It breathed a new ethic. Men stumbled at such a mystic philosophy as the investment of life. "I," "thou," "he," were reversed to read "he," "thou," "I." How could buried seeds reach ampler life? Misers ask it yet! Lord Macaulay's characterization of Voltaire aptly voices the cue of unbelief: "He has no ear for the fine vibrations of the spiritual voice." The brilliant atheist has lots of company. The whole value of vital religion is conditioned upon its translation into terms of life and service. There is no fresh air in a picture. Buds do not grow on a water-color drawing. Homer gave his eyes to produce the Iliad. Demosthenes' plea for Athenian liberty cost him his life blood. Dante's furrowed face was ploughed in Italian lazarettos. It is true to life. Artists soak their minds in beauty—then paint. Orators catch fire in their themes—then speak. Authors live in actual experience—then write. Here is the divine secret. See it? Thomas Carlyle, with true insight said: "All thought worth thinking is conceived in the furnace of pain." Cold lips have no warm message. Stored gilt-edge securities mock at Calvary. O listen to my parable in translated religion: we listened in and heard it whispered in the wondrous voice. The only thing that makes the Arctic zone possible is that all its rivers are frozen at the mouth.

And They Wondered

Westminster Abbey echoed with the music of Dean Farrar's appealing voice when he said: "The art of an epoch is the reflection of its beliefs." Our civilization attests this fact. There is no world-team play in the five continents. Crude scientific evidence proves that unless the voice of Jesus is supreme in international councils we are headed for another titanic conflict. And every war in the future will be a world war. And yet they wondered—! Slav versus Teuton, Mongoloid versus Slav; and it spells out racial animosities, commercial rivalries, political antagonisms; and not least, religious bigotries—and the tinder is hot, dry and waits only the flame. The issue is tremendous.

O ye who proclaim the great commission in lands afar, let these waiting millions know that their prayer-bells are not lost on the infinite ear! Tell the devout Brahman that in the temple of God he may "lose himself" in the Eternal Life. Bid the elite of China bring their wisdom and cash it in at the divine clearing house of soul assets. Invite the Moslem to face the holy shrine at the foot of the Cross, and know the true God and Jesus Christ who was sent. Woo and win the enigma of the Pacific—Japan; radiant in her new-found imperialism, and convert her to aspire to kingdoms of truth and light and love! Do you wonder that I preach Christ unto you? See and share with my Lord the redeeming vision that spiritual coinage is universal currency.

"If any man hear by voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me."

Hushed be the noise and the strife of the schools, Volume and pamphlet sermon and speech; The lips of the wise and the prattle of fools, Let the Son of Man teach.

NEWS FROM THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

VACATION SALE BY AUTO SUPPLY IS SUCCESSFUL

Bringing to a close what is declared by the Western Auto Supply company to have proven their outstanding sale of the season, the Vacation Time sale, which has been in effect in all of their stores during the month of June, will end on Friday, July 3.

"This sale has been very successful," states Jack Campbell, local Western Auto manager. "The merchandise featured is priced lower than ever before in the history of our company, and offers some real outstanding savings on motoring needs and equipment necessary to camping comfort."

"We have received many compliments on the timeliness of this sale from our customers as they are interested in such equipment at the beginning of the vacation season and appreciate the savings offered. With the increased popularity of trips into the back country, good equipment is necessary and they know that the merchandise offered during this sale is the same guaranteed equipment offered at all times by Western Auto. They can figure for themselves how much they save by comparing the sale prices with our regular low catalog prices."

"Camping seems to be more popular this season than ever before. A recent check made by one of our field men at a National Park disclosed that four out of five drivers who entered the park and intended to stay a few days or longer, had complete camping equipment in their cars. These parks have numerous camping sites and the camping equipment enables its owner to move from camp to camp and from park to park at his leisure."

"For the convenience of our customers, the Western Auto Supply company stores will remain open Friday evening, July 3, until 9 p. m."

GIVE PLYMOUTH TO FIVE TECH SCHOOLS

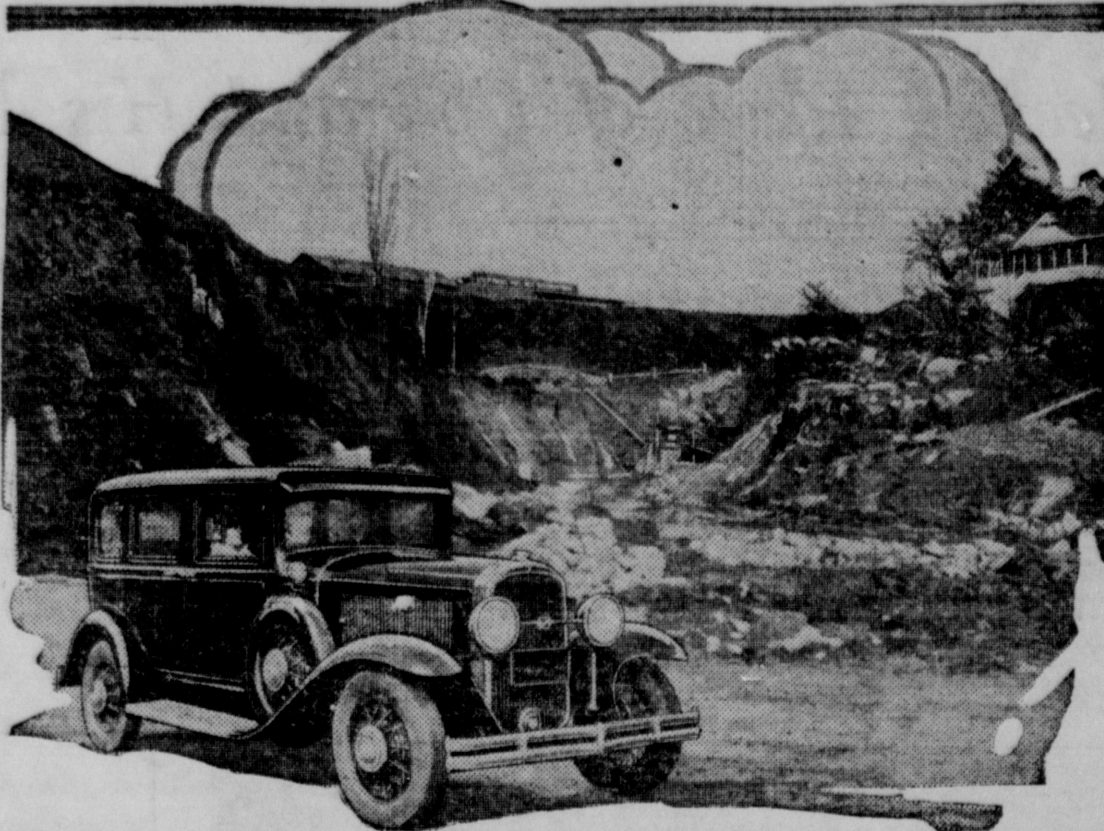

Five cutaway chassis, used for demonstration and display purposes at the National Automobile Shows, were presented to the engineering departments of as many well-known technical schools last week by Plymouth Motor corporation, according to an announcement made today.

The schools receiving these chassis include: Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Colorado Agricultural College, University of Missouri, Clemson Agricultural College and Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas.

Cutaway chassis are among the most expensive engineering displays developed by various automobile companies. The regular chassis of the model is cross-sectioned and cut at various angles in order to show the complete working arrangements of every part of the automobile from engine to axle. They prove most beneficial to engineering classes who are able to make a detailed study of the principles involved in automobile construction and functioning.

The engineering department of each of the colleges accepted the chassis, to become parts of their regular equipment.

Highway Tunnel Under Town

Road engineers are tunneling under the town of Newcastle, California, on the San Francisco-Reno highway, to straighten the line and eliminate grades and curves. The road passes under a transcontinental railroad, too. The car is a Buick eight sedan on the new grade near Newcastle.

SMOOTHNESS FEATURED BY STUDEBAKER

By scientific test, Studebaker's 51 horsepower Dictator engine has proved itself the smoothest eight within hundreds of dollars of its price, according to Harry Riley, Studebaker dealer here.

"While the eight cylinder powerplant is inherently smooth, the degree of smoothness varies as engineers are able to reduce torsional vibration periods through improved crankshaft balance."

"To determine this torsional vibration, a laboratory device called a torsigraph is used. It is particularly useful when new engine models are being developed, or when some change in engine design is contemplated. The engine to be tested is solidly mounted on a rigid base, and the device attached to the front end of the crankshaft. When the motor is running, any vibration in the crankshaft is instantly made visible in the form of a circular line on a chart. The closer the record approaches a true circle, the more nearly perfect is the smoothness of the engine."

"Recently, a torsigraph test was conducted at the factory with a Dictator Eight and several other engines ranging in price up to twice as much as the Dictator. While the Dictator Eight chart registered an almost perfect circle, records of the other engines tested showed varying degrees of roughness as indicated by irregular 'humpiness' of their torsigraph readings."

"In the language of the laboratory, the Dictator Eight is what is known as a 'sweet' engine. Its superior smoothness is obtained principally through the use of 9-bearing, statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft, a vibration

The fourth annual presentation of the Sequoia National Park open-air theme play, "Era of the Red Trees," is to be given in Giant Forest on Saturday evening, July 4th. The production is sponsored by the Visalia Chamber of Commerce as their offering during California's Fiesta Year. Additional seating capacity has been provided in the big amphitheater near Giant Forest Lodge, according to Western Auto Supply Company scouts who made a trip to the big trees this week.

ROADABILITY FEATURE OF DE SOTO SIX

The job of designing the new De Soto Six for 1931 was one of co-operation between body and chassis engineers. Outstanding changes over the previous six in appearance, lowness, roadability and increased power.

The chassis and body engineers together worked out the details of the new double-center drop frame and the Steelweld body which has reduced greatly the overall height without decreasing headroom vision or road clearance. In addition to lowering the center of gravity materially thereby making the car cling tightly to the road even at high speeds on sharp curves these changes have improved considerably the ease of handling and the feeling of "solid comfort."

Coupled with this new lowness there are certain improvements in body contours and moulding treatment and a longer hood which add a fleet close-to-the-road appearance in keeping with the increased power and improved performance ability.

The new slender-profile radiator is typically De Soto in design. In place of a nameplate on the radiator there is a new version of the De Soto crest done in color and mounted on the headlamp cross rod. Wide range-bar bumpers contribute their share to the creation of artistic refinement. There are double top cowl ventilators, a new swing-type windshield and windshield header bar assembly without visor.

Engine and mechanical changes involve the addition of one-eighth inch to the cylinder bore, an increase in compression ratio, lowering the gear ratio to 4.53 to 1, providing a crankshaft impulse neutralizer, longer piston, an altered carburetor design, all of which contribute to increased power.

Enlarge All Quaker Oil Co. Stations

"The comments made by those people who have inspected the new Quaker State Motor Oil headquarters in Los Angeles, with its thoroughly modern service facilities, lead one to believe that surprise is shown when a firm avails itself of the unusually low costs of construction today and expands," stated J. E. McCormick, vice president and general manager of the Quaker State Oil Refining Company of California, in an interview yesterday.

"We feel that construction costs now invite such action and the Los Angeles expansion is only one of the many similar steps taken by the Quaker State Oil Refining company during the last several months. In fact, each of the various Quaker State plants has been enlarged or rebuilt within the last year and a half, and the work has been done not merely with the thought in mind of helping keep workers busy, but also because the firm believes that now is the logical time to invest in expansion."

"It is true that Quaker State 100 per cent pure Pennsylvania motor oil has made such marvelous strides in popular favor that some expansion was almost forced upon us," continued Mr. McCormick. "However, we built for the future as well as for the present. Millions of motorists have turned to Quaker State for the 'extra quart of lubrication in every gallon' which is so widely advertised, and unquestionably this advertising, by telling the story of the exclusive Quaker State process of super-refining, has done much to aid this expansion."

"With the added facilities to handle greater volume, Quaker State is planning more extensive advertising than ever before. By the end of this year we expect to find several million more motorists insisting that they get this super-refined oil which assures four full quarts of lubrication in every gallon instead of three quarts of lubricating oil and a fourth quart of worthless water-thin fluid as is found in ordinary motor oils."

WORK OF 101 BEING RUSHED BY WORKERS

The extensive construction which has been under way on the Coast route, U. S. 101, between San Francisco and Los Angeles, is being rapidly completed and new pieces of work opened up, reports the Touring department of the National Automobile Club.

Following is an outline of the work now under way: One and eight-tenths miles, beginning at the north city limits of Santa Margarita and extending south; four and eight-tenths miles just south of Los Alamos; and 2.8 miles of construction between Las Cruces and Gaviota.

Traffic is being routed over the work and portions will be found quite rough. The eleven miles between the Monterey-San Luis Obispo county line and Paso Robles have been completed and this part of the road is in splendid condition.

ROAD IS CLOSED

The Wilmington-San Pedro road is closed at the present time, due to construction, and it is necessary to detour via Anaheim and Gaffney streets, according to the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club. This road will be closed for several months as it is to be widened and paved.

All Roads Good To Yellowstone

Yellowstone National Park is now accessible from all of the entrances, reports the Touring department of the National Automobile Club.

The southern entrance through the Grand Teton National Park is open and in good condition. Motorists will find this route rich in scenery.

Great Elks Caravan To Seattle

More than a thousand cars forming a line ten miles long will be in the great Purple Parade that starts from Los Angeles July 1st and ends at Seattle in time for the Elks National Convention. Casey Brain, chairman, is shown receiving latest information on route conditions from Van Dux, who logged the trip in advance especially for the Billa.

CHANGES SEEN IN NEW MODELS PACKARD CARS

With some features entirely new to motor cars and with many other changes to give comfort, performance and beauty, completely new models are announced today by the Packard Motor Car company. The new Packards are more altered in appearance than in several years and yet there is no sacrifice in the characteristic Packard lines.

Engineers apparently have concentrated on improvements in the interest of the passenger who in most cases now is the owner of the car, particularly with the larger and more luxurious automobiles. At the same time, many things have been done for the driver, such as increased motor power, still easier operation and maintenance, and greater quietness.

All types of the new cars are larger with wider tread and longer wheel base, and greater body room. Through one new feature, aimed primarily at greater passenger comfort, the shock absorbers can be adjusted easily and instantly to changing driving conditions. The occupants of the car tune their vehicle to the road as simply as they might adjust their radio sets.

So greatly has Packard given attention to the comfort of passengers in its cars that, following the trend of the times, its engineers apparently have realized modern woman now probably would much rather have some place to deposit ashes on her side of the back seat in the family car than a receptacle for her powder puff. At any rate, cigarette lighters and ash receivers are found on both sides in the rear compartments of the new cars.

Synchronizers have been added to the four speed transmission so that gears can be changed easily, quickly, and noiselessly, regardless of temperature changes or any lack of skill on the part of the driver. Packard has retained the straight eight motor, adding improvements which make it quieter and more powerful.

The engine is "floated" in rubber in the interest of quiet operation. To make this possible in the longer wheel base and heavier cars and still avoid front end weaving, a new stabilizing device has been invented by Packard. It consists of a metal spool mounted between heavy springs in a cylinder which is placed at each end of the front bumper. The new device dampens any movement of the radiator and lamps and stabilizes the whole front end of the car at all speeds. This device and the system for adjustment of the shock absorbers are said to be two of the most outstanding innovations.

To Widen Road San Diego-Yuma

Contracts have been awarded for widening 21 miles of the San Diego-Yuma Interstate Highway, between East Highline Canal and sand hills in Imperial county, according to the Touring department of the National Automobile Club.

CHASSIS FRAME OF NEW AUBURN GIVEN PRAISE

Motorists who have experienced undue riding discomforts on rough roads, and other such annoyances should know that in most instances these are the results of lack of chassis frame rigidity. The chassis frame of an automobile acts as a foundation for the entire car, according to Paul Clark, local dealer.

The chassis frame of the conventional automobile is made up of two side rails, ranging in depth from 5 1/2 to 8 inches in the center and in thickness from 3/32 to 5/32, according to the engineering of the car. Over the front and rear axles these side rails are reduced in depth to allow for clearance. The two rails are joined together by cross members.

In addition to the thickness of the steel which is used in the rails and cross members, much of the rigidity of this chassis frame is due to the manner in which these cross members are attached. For instance, a frame of the same strength steel with the same number of cross members are placed at different points.

Auburn engineers after years of experimentation, have found that the conventional bracing with cross members is insufficient to make a chassis frame absolutely rigid. In tests it was found that even though six cross members were used in the conventional manner, if any one of the frame was lifted, the frame would sag.

Benefitting from the experience of the Cord front drive car which first introduced the X-Cross Member, a bridge-like construction, Auburn engineers devised a similar type for the 1931 Auburns. This X-Member provides three-way bracing and in tests at the factory experimental department, it has been found that any end of the chassis frame can be lifted off the floor without the frame sagging one point 1-16 of an inch.

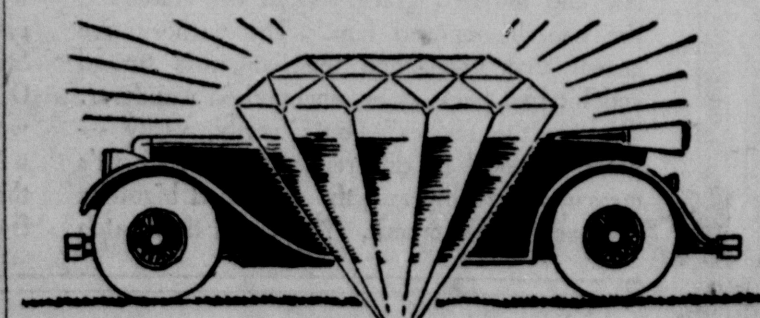

The rigidity of this new type frame bracing is very noticeable to motorists in traveling over rough roads, the occupants of the car having a feeling of security and safety similar to that of travel in a Pullman.

One Fourth All Grade Crashed Autos' Fault

Some motorists are so anxious to crash into a railway train that they burst through the guard gates to accomplish this end, it is revealed in reports of the American Railway association, reaching the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Approximately one-fourth of the grade crossing accidents in the country last year were due to motorists running into trains. There were 1130 passenger automobiles hit trains last year, killing 214 persons. In many of these instances, the report says, operators of these automobiles crashed through crossing gates before hitting the train.

INCREASE SEEN IN SALES OF DODGE MACHINE

Keeping pace with the steady improvement in general business throughout the country retail dealers of Dodge Brothers Six and eight cylinder passenger cars since November have shown constant and substantial month to month increases, according to figures just released by General Sales Manager A. VanDerZee, of Dodge Brothers corporation.

December, as compared to November, registered an increase of 16 per cent; January over December 14.3 per cent; February over January 23 per cent; March over February 49.3 per cent and April over March 22.6 per cent. Figures covering overall deliveries—Dodge and Plymouth passenger cars, Dodge Brothers trucks, buses and taxicabs—also registered consistent monthly increases since the first of the year, January ending December by 9.5 per cent; February over January 19.2 per cent; March over February 49.3 per cent; and April over March 24 per cent. Preliminary figures for the month of May indicate continued increases.

Summing up these consistent increases, Mr. Van Der Zee's statement disclosed that Dodge Brothers' total passenger car shipments to United States dealers in April exceeded any one month since May 1930 and that the grand total of passenger car shipments—United States, Canada and overseas—exceeded any one month since April 1930.

Just how these shipments compare to sales is contained in the statement that retail deliveries of passenger cars by Dodge Brothers to United States dealers in April exceeded any one month since June, 1930.

Motorists Asked To Be Careful On July Fourth

With July 4 coming on Saturday this year, motorists are warned to use extra caution, as a double holiday doubtless will bring record-breaking traffic.

In this connection the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California urges motorists to bear in mind that July 4 always is the peak day of the year for traffic accidents.

The national Independence Day has ever been considered the most dangerous holiday in the year, largely due to the celebration with fireworks. In recent years, however, deaths from fireworks have steadily been decreased while fatalities in traffic have steadily increased.

However, says the public safety department of the motoring organization, whether driving, swimming, boating, or celebrating with fireworks, it is well to remember that the day presents more hazards to life and limb than any other in the calendar.

Rattler's Bite Not Very Poisonous Says Bulletin

With the outdoor recreation season in full swing, timid souls who have a horror of California's only deadly snake, the rattler, will find comfort in a bulletin just issued by the United States Biological Survey reaching the Automobile Club of Southern California.

This is for the fearful, as it says the rattler's bite has been fatal in only 10 per cent of the cases on record, and practically never fatal when proper measures are taken. It is further pointed out that the rattlesnake can strike only three-fourths of its own length.

Learn what to do in case of snake bite, and carry a first aid kit when traveling into the open spaces, is the suggestion of the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

ANNOUNCE FOUR NEW NASH CARS TO U. S. TODAY

KENOSHA, Wis., June 27.—(Special)—Nash announces four new and luxurious series of motor cars today.

Synchro-Safety-Shift transmissions, with spiral second gears, which make second speed operation as silent and pleasant to the ears as high speed travel; completely sound-proof insulated bodies and chassis, and a remarkable new science of "silence engineering" throughout lead the host of mechanical and comfort advancements, to establish new essentials of luxurious motoring, at no price increase, as the feature of major importance in the three straight-eight groups and the six cylinder series.

All four of the new Nash groups—designated as the 990, 980, 970 and 960 Series—feature the Safety-Shift principle and spiral, constantly meshed second gears. As applied to all of the cars, this advanced unit is a signal contribution to smooth, noiseless and effortless shifting of gears and to positive driving control at all speeds. It combines the synchro-shift principle, which obviates the grating of gear teeth in shifting, with helically cut second speed gears. In addition, it gives the driver the vital advantage of car control at all times by using the braking power of motor compression in traffic emergencies, on slippery streets and steep downgrades.

Other essentials of driving luxury in all of the new Nash cars include the complete insulation of the new bodies against rumbling, squeaks, beat, cold and dust and the sound-proofing of chassis with live rubber insulation and cushioning.

Interior metal panels of the Nash bodies are covered with a thick, plastic insulation. Insulating material is also applied at all points where the staunch wood parts meet the strong metal parts in the bodies. Body wood is treated with a new, odorless chemical solution to guard it permanently against rot and the attacks of weather. This insulation and treatment effectively deadens the coachwork for long and satisfactory service. A new beauty of interior appointments and of body lines mark all of the cars, which are designed with attractive new V-type fronts to accent their speed and low swung charm.

All possible chassis points of metal-to-metal contact are separated by a type of insulation best suited to the purpose. Spring shackles and hangers are thoroughly insulated by large, highly compressed and practically indestructible live-rubber bushings. This rubber construction is used on both front and rear springs of the 960 and 970 models and on the rear springs of the 980 and 990 cars, whose self-adjusting front spring shackles are cared for by automatic chassis lubrication.

In all of the models wheels are newly designed, with enlarged chromium-and-enamel plated hub caps. Attractive new hardware of chaste design; artistic instrument panels with white lettering on ebony backgrounds; three-spoke, clear vision steering wheels; unusually rich interior appointments; rear quarter reading lamps, attractive smoking sets with wireless cigar lighter, tufted broadcloth or mohair upholstery—and massive, single-bar bumpers are additional features of fine car appeal.

NEW BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

BY VERA RAMSEY

The complexities of modern life seem at times overwhelming. We can find no defense with which to meet them. There is, however, no turning the back upon these conditions. Here they are and in some manner they must be faced.

The books of H. A. Overstreet have helped many people to understand modern psychological theories. In his new book, "The Enduring Quest," he searches for the philosophy of life derived from the new discoveries of non-materialistic science. He aids us in finding that which we are seeking—a personal philosophy with which to meet the challenge of modern life. Whoever you are, this book speaks for you and to you. H. A. Overstreet is a human philosopher. He grew up with religious beliefs of the nineteenth century. He saw these beliefs wrecked by the advance of materialistic science; he saw the theories of natural selection and abnormal psychology plunge the thinking world into despair. But in the last few decades, science has been changing. New discoveries—relativity, radium, emergent evolution, cosmic rays—are the fruits of a new and non-materialistic science.

Science today gives rise to new conceptions of man's future. So far, the temper of the world has not caught up with these new conceptions. But now, in "The Enduring Quest," Professor Overstreet searches, through the upheavals of modern science, for the philosophy by which we can live—a new promise out of the pessimism of the machine age.

This book, like his earlier ones, is a thoughtful study of the problems involved. It is not quackery nor magic which can make our troubles vanish away. We will have to think in this same serious, commonplace way as the author.

Professor Overstreet is not of the ilk of those popularizers whose books provide a nine-day wonder, to be immediately forgotten. Year after year his books continue to reach a wider audience. His sane facing of the problems of modern life are teaching us to have more faith in the future. This is the best possible proof of their value.

Far in the north lie the Canadian Barren Lands, the last of the great unexplored areas on the continent. Here, for half a million square miles, stretches a monotonous desolation ruled in winter by the Arctic blizzards, in summer by famine and the white wolves. Here are two gentlemen adventurers—John Hornby, "Hermit of the Arctic" and Critchell-Bullock, a young Bengal Lancer—staked their lives for the privilege of being the first white men to live off the country for an entire year supported only by their rifles. Taken down by Malcolm T. Waldron from Critchell-Bullock's lips, "Snow Man" is the account of their experiences.

This book has all the vivid narrative interest of a great novel. Reading it, you share the sufferings of the two explorers in blizzards and famine. You understand the jealousies and bickerings that flame up between men shut in by the Arctic night. You feel their joy in meeting Eskimos who share with them a handful of rotten meat, and you sorrow with them in the execution of their last faithful dog.

Very strongly are we made to feel the power and savagery of the forces of nature in this untamed country. The blizzard tortures its victims with a cruel pleasure. It tries their hearts by blinding them. It robs them of their senses. The nerves of the helpless victim sing in tune with its whine. Here is a description of it as told by the author "A northern blizzard has an identity. It lasts either three or seven days in the Barrens. It varies from this no more than a few hours. The falling snow and the dry powdered drifts are whipped by the wind into impenetrable, whirling curtains. The flakes are like flying chips of glass, glazed and sharp. The wind is a duet, the shrill piping of the upper gusts and the organ drone of the earth currents. The air is like ink during the long nights, and in the few hours of half-daylight it is like a fog gone mad."

In this account we have an epic of true adventure and an almost unbelievable account of the hardships men can endure.

Younghill Kang tells the story of his life in "The Grass Root." In its opening, it has the quality of an idyl, for it tells of a little boy's life in a lovely Korean valley where the most respected man was the poet and the philosopher. But as the tale goes on, the idyl is broken—the passions of greed and hatred enter into the land with the Japanese, and in the end it is a tragic drama.

This Korean's account of his own life has none of that strangeness that one associates with books about the Orientals. The members of his family who are among his characters—his old grandmother, his happy-go-lucky uncle, his playmates—are as real as are the characters in "Huckleberry Finn," which in some degree the early part of the book resembles. The point of view of these Orientals is made so plain that are seen at heart to be like ourselves—and it is likely that this book will take its place as one of the great human stories of a boy's tussle with reality.

This boy, it was thought, would be a poet. That was his ambition, but the seizure of the land by the Japanese changed all that. In the end he saw he must face the fact, though it involved rebellion against those he loved most. He ran away to Seoul—his journey there on foot was full of incident and color—to gain Western learning. Then he studied in Japan. In the end he saw that he must leave the East to learn the West, and so he made his way to America. He finally had a chance to go to Harvard and from 1920 on he has lived in this country.

His story is an adventurous tale, told with the utmost sensibility, of the struggle for life, truth, and beauty.

CLEVELAND, June 27.—Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion of the world, and Willie Stribling of Georgia promise to put up a fight from the first round at Cleveland July 3. There is every reason in the world to believe that this will be the best heavyweight title fight since Dempsey and Firpo fought at the Polo grounds.

Youth, courage and ambition are elements that cannot be overlooked. In many of our big title battles a young and perfectly conditioned challenger has met a jaded and weary title defender. Here are two youngsters who have shown their class.

Schmeling, with a background of only a score or so of fights in Europe, came to this country and easily climbed to the top. He beat a good rugged young heavyweight who had shown plenty of promise. He beat a fast and clever, light-heavyweight.

Stopped Johnny Risko That started him and he was matched with rubbery Johnny Risko, considered a sure winner. Risko had fought them all and had whipped most of them. Max knocked him down and nearly out in the first round. Risko was saved by the bell. Then Max laid back and boxed deliberately to encourage Risko and make the boxer boy come rushing in again. That's the style of fighting he likes. Let the other fellow tear in and Schmeling knows what to do. At the seventh round Max told Billy McCarney, his second: "I haff him coming nice. Now I knock him out." He met Risko's rushes with heavy smashes that dropped the boxer boy on his face, dropped him again and again, and in the ninth had Johnny beaten helpless, to end the fight.

That made Schmeling's reputation as a fighter. He was next matched with Paulino, the tough Basque that so many of the top-liners dodged.

Against the rushing, slam-bang Paulino Schmeling fought the fight of a master. He crouched low, let Paulino's swings graze his ears, punched Paulino until he was bewildered, and in the 12th round stood up straight and tore him to pieces. It was Paulino's amazing vitality, and nothing else, that carried him to the end.

NUTHALL BEATS MRS. HARPER Santa Ana Beats Garden Grove, 8-1

PEPPERS KICK CONTEST AWAY BEHIND YOUEL

There isn't so much to baseball except throwing a ball and catching it, but Garden Grove's Peppers showed glaring defects even in these fundamentals while losing a ragged 8-1 affair to Santa Ana in the Bowl last night.

Seven staggering blunders most of them at costly intervals, deprived the visitors of all chance of beating the Stars, who often get pretty spotty themselves but never to the point of giving away ball games gratis.

Joe Cornelius pitched for Santa Ana, Mearl Youel for Garden Grove. They were both off form, but Cornelius' support was quite good, Youel's wobbly. Youel, who has developed an amazing temperament since leaving the Stars early in the season and now spends much of his time beefing over decisions, relinquished his score arm in the sixth inning and had to leave the game.

Cole Scores First Run Santa Ana got an unearned run in the second after two were gone when Bill Cole was safe on Pea's error, went to second as Scott walker, third on a wild pitch, home on "Doc" Smith's infield single.

Another error by Pea put Bell on in the fourth. Infield outs by Cole and Scott sent the outfielder to third and he scored when Smith again singled.

"Rosy" Merrill, who has shown signs of shaking off a rather protracted batting slump, hoisted a long home run to the scoreboard to open the Stars' fifth. This was one of Santa Ana's two earned tallies. Leavitt Daley followed with a slashing single to left, stole second. Ed Daley's single put him on third. A wild pitch did the rest.

Santa Ana picked up four more runs in the eighth which Bell opened by getting a life on Dugger's error at second. Cole singled over third, moved up with Bell on Scott's neat sacrifice.

Nelson Back in Lineup Celebrating his return to the lineup after two weeks' absence with a sore shoulder, Wayne Nelson punched a single to right that scored both Bell and Cole. Two wild pitches put Nelson on third and long home run to the scoreboard to open the Stars' fifth. This was one of Santa Ana's two earned tallies. Leavitt Daley followed with a slashing single to left, stole second. Ed Daley's single put him on third. A wild pitch did the rest.

Santa Ana picked up four more runs in the eighth which Bell opened by getting a life on Dugger's error at second. Cole singled over third, moved up with Bell on Scott's neat sacrifice.

Nelson Back in Lineup Celebrating his return to the lineup after two weeks' absence with a sore shoulder, Wayne Nelson punched a single to right that scored both Bell and Cole. Two wild pitches put Nelson on third and long home run to the scoreboard to open the Stars' fifth. This was one of Santa Ana's two earned tallies. U. S. LEADS IN SINGLES PLAY FOR RYDER CUP

COLUMBUS, O., June 27.—(UP)—America's Ryder Cup forces held a commanding lead over their British rivals today after the morning rounds of the 36-hole singles contests were completed. The British led in two matches, two were even and the United States team led in four.

COLUMBUS, O., June 27.—America's professional golf forces were made favorites today over Great Britain's stars as the singles play of the biennial Ryder Cup championship got under way at the Soloto country club course.

The United States forces won the doubles competition, 3-1. While the single British victory in the four-hole foursomes was clearly earned, the margins of victory scored by some of the Americans left Fred Pignol, manager of the invading squad only with hope that his players could "make a decent showing" in the individual play.

Twelve points were at stake when the contests began. With three of them already captured by the Americans, the British need to win six of the eight singles to retain the cup.

Yesterday's lone British victory was scored by Abe Mitchell and Fred Robson over Leo Diegel and Al Espinosa, 3 and 1. In the other matches, Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen defeated Archie Compston and W. H. Davis, 8 and 7; Walter Hagen and Densmore Shute defeated George Duncan and Arthur Havers, 10 and 9; Billy Burke and "Whiffy" Cox defeated Syd Easterbrook and Ernest Whitcombe, 3 and 2.

It was one of those mysteries of decision-calling. The crowd, unappreciative of the tactics of La Barba, who punched, sidestepped and hung on, plugged hard for Varner, but with the exception of the third round when he dizzied the former world champion, he had little to offer except to keep the fight going.

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—(INS)—Application blanks for tickets to the 1932 Olympic Games here were issued today by the game committee.

Three types of tickets will be sold: Season tickets to the individual events, the Olympic stadium pass and single program tickets.

The stadium pass admits the holder to 27 programs of events during the 16 days of the games and will sell for $22. Season tickets for boxing will sell for $12, wrestling $9, rowing $14. Swimming and water events $15, fencing $10, while single event admissions will cost from $1 to $3.

Santa Anans Will Motor To Big Meet

The mere fact that they were not picked to go to Lincoln, Neb., with the Los Angeles Athletic club's team will not keep three Santa Ana cinderpath satellites, "Chuck" Webber, Howard Paul and Norman Paul, out of the National A. A. U. track meet July 3 and 4.

Accompanied by Joe Vignola of Los Angeles, Webber and the Paul brothers will motor to Lincoln in Webber's car.

Webber will run the 440 yard hurdles. The Pauls will compete in the broad jump and the hop-step-jump.

HOLLYWOOD, June 27.—(UP)—A crowd which was strongly partisan for Claude Varner, Bakersfield featherweight, swayed the opinion of Referee Billy Burke last night, and Varner was given an unworthy decision over Fidel Le Barba, California feather champion, in a 10-round bout that wasn't even close.

La Barba won the fight in a walk, taking all but two rounds. In the opinion of sports writers. While some went so far as to give Varner two rounds, La Barba six and call one even, others were generous enough to concede only one round to the Bakersfield lad, the third.

HUNTINGTON BEACH NINE EXTENDED BY NOMADS "Andy" Anderson's North Long Beach Nomads extended Huntington Beach in a bristling 3-2 pitchers' duel at Huntington Beach. Howard Morning helped win his own game with a timely double in the fourth that scored Landreth and Young, who had singled.

What proved to be the winning run was made in the seventh when Elliott singled over short and went all the way around when Brown, trying to head Elliott off at second, hit the runner with the ball which caromed off into the outfield.

North Long Beach got one in the eighth on Gene Hitt's single and Higgins' double, and another in the ninth on singles by Osborn and Hitt and Markley's fly to center. The score:

JOHN HERO OF POETS' NARROW ESCAPE Lloyd Johnson, the pitcher, was the hero of Whittier's 3-2 win over Long Beach in 10 innings at Long Beach.

Long Beach developed a 2-0 lead and held it until the ninth when Klein singled and Johnson propelled a homer to deep left that tied the score. Then the Poets pushed around a winning run in the tenth on Kitt's single which Hermann booted and let Kitt have an extra base, Klein's infield out and a wild pitch.

The Acorns got their runs in the fourth and fifth. Al Davis singled in the fourth, scored all the way from first when "Brass" Davis let Hyde's single to center get away from him. Rod Ballard hit a homer in the fifth.

The score:

Reserve All Bowl Seats For Tuesday

All seats in the Bowl will be reserved for the Santa Ana-Anaheim baseball game here Tuesday night, Santa Ana club officials announced today. Tickets will go on sale Monday at 8 a. m. at the Victor Walker sporting goods store, 219 West Fourth street.

As this will be the last time this year the two old rivals meet in Santa Ana, a sellout is considered certain.

"Chico" Sabella, a famed moundsman, who also pitched a first half tailed La Habra club to the second half pennant last summer, has joined Anaheim for the rest of the season. Anaheim supporters believe the great "Chico" will give their team the flag. He probably will work against Santa Ana although no announcement was forthcoming today from Anaheim officials.

Tuesday's Schedule
Anaheim at Santa Ana; Olive at Westminster; Fullerton at Huntington Beach; North Long Beach at Whittier; Long Beach at Garden Grove.

Three National league baseball games were decided by one-run margins last night. A fourth was close and interesting. Only the Santa Ana-Garden Grove tiff, which promised to be best of all, was one-sided.

Franz Penhall's Westminster Aviators, showing no respect whatever for reputations, scared the tar out of George Pace's Anaheim Valencias, co-favorites with Santa Ana for the second half race. Anaheim won, 6-5, only after a struggle as strenuous as any the Pacemen will have this term.

The Valencias got a three-run lead in the first frame on Neal's walk. DeBusk's error on Rice's sacrifice and successive singles by Kohler, Preble and Seachand. Preble's homer made it 4-0 in the third and Rice's homer, with Neal aboard, increased it to 6-0 in the first of the fourth.

Westminster then cut loose at "Fuzzy" Errington's slow ball. In the last of the fourth, DeBusk singled, Gardner doubled, Sauers walked, Davis singled and Hank-merr singled. Rice booting the last one. All this manufactured four runs and sent Errington to the showers. Russell Cogans, the Pasadenaan, was rushed to the rescue and stopped the uprising, although Wilson's single and DeBusk's double in the fifth made it 6-5. Thereafter neither side was able to score and Anaheim went home thankful there are no more Westminsterers on its schedule this quarter. The summary:

Anaheim.....301 200 000-6	5 2

HELEN JACOBS WINNER OVER MRS. GODFREY

WIMBLEDON, England, June 27.—(UP)—One of America's greatest hopes in the women's singles of the Wimbledon tennis championships was eliminated from competition today when Mrs. Lavence A. Harper of California was defeated, 6-4, 6-2, by Miss Helen Nuthall, England's ranking woman player.

Miss Nuthall's victory was a most direct parallel of her triumph over Mrs. Harper in the final round of the American singles championships last year.

America still has a chance of the title, however, as Miss Helen Jacobs, another Californian, ranked No. 2 in the United States rankings of 1928 and 1929, earlier in the day had advanced to the quarter-final round with a close victory over Mrs. L. A. Godfrey.

U. S. Girl At Top of Game Miss Jacobs won over the former Wimbledon titleholder, 6-2, 6-1, a tie she never was in doubt. California girl was at the top her game, literally driving Mrs. Godfrey off her feet with a steady barrage of powerful drives to the corners of the court.

The three remaining places in the quarter-final bracket of the men's singles were filled when J. Borotra of Japan defeated H. G. Lee of England, 6-4, 6-4, 6-0.

"Bunny" Austin, England's No. 1 player, defeated his countryman Ian Collins, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4, and J. Borotra, seeded No. 1 and favorite to win the title, beat H. Artens of Austria, 6-4, 6-2, 6-0. Austin will next meet Frenchman of New York, No. 1 player of the American Davis Cup squad.

Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., and Pierre Landry of France moved into the quarter-final round of the men's doubles with a 7-5, 6-3 victory over the British team of Noel Trumbull and J. Gilbert.

King and Queen in Box King George and Queen Mary were in the royal box when Mrs. Harper appeared against Miss Nuthall and they remained to watch the British star wear down the diminutive southpaw Californian with a steady bombardment.

amazingly swift drives. Mrs. Harper showed impressive taking a lead of 3-1. During the early games Mrs. Harper frequently passed the British girl at the net.

Miss Nuthall soon warmed her racket, however, and once her shots were working, never was in danger. Henri Cocking and Jacques Brunon, ranking French doubles team, moved into the quarter-finals of the men's doubles with a 7-5, 6-7, 6-1 triumph over the French tandem of Antoine Gentien and Jan Lesourd.

Shields and Wood Win Shields and Wood, 19-year-old "babies" of the American Day Cup squad went into the third round of the doubles when they defeated the British team of G. Colre-Rees and C. G. Eames, 6-1, 6-2.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JESUS, THE WORLD'S SAVIOR

International Uniform Sunday Lesson for June 28, Jesus, World's Savior; Suffering and Death. Golden Text: John 3:16.

WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Director of the Congregationalist

Review of the quarter's lessons is placed under a noble title of significant subtitle. In considering the world's savior we are not immediately into the subject of suffering and death, but Jesus is among those who stooped to conquer, and the of his triumph and his power and blessing mankind came the way that humanity it was to tread—the way of suffering in his case to the very of suffering in the cross. The full range of the quarter's lessons can be had only by taking account of the lessons of the quarter in which we followed the course of Jesus his childhood through the of preparation to the attainment of that popularity which so changed to his rejection. The lessons of this quarter are laid upon the essential teachings of Jesus. In the lesson under the parable of who chose prominent places to feast to which they were Jesus teaches the lesson of humility, and with the same lessons was associated the deep of this in the recognition of the little child. The arrogant and the sure to undervalue the little child, so that the lesson of the little ones.

Jesus Triumphs
The parable of the prodigal son, the story of the rich man and the poor, the parable of the Pharisee and the publican at prayer, the of the conversion of Zacchaeus and the parable of the pounds and the preparation for judgment. From this we have been in sudden contrast in the of the sufferings of Gethsemane and Calvary, with the close of the quarter emphasis on the triumph of the resurrection and the living presence of this has led up to application of the spirit of the whole teaching in relation to the of conduct. To cause others to be humble, to disregard the weak, or to be scornful or indifferent to what we may regard as their weaknesses or their narrow prejudices, Paul represents as not being the Christian way of humility and kindness.

So we come in the conclusion of the quarter's studies to the real sovereignty of Jesus over the souls of men. It is nothing to acclaim him as King unless we have made him the ruler in our own lives. It is nothing to believe in his resurrection and ascension unless he is given the highest place in all that we think and say and do. To live in the spirit of Jesus is the true expression of belief in him, and it is that alone that makes us worthy to be called by the name "Christian."
The Real Inspiration
This is the aim and purpose of all our studies. It is of little value to spend time studying the Scriptures unless the study really illumines our minds, warms our hearts and strengthens our souls. The Gospels tell of the in-breathing of the spirit of God in the souls of men. This is the real inspiration. As it moved men to right words of truth, as it moved Christ to come to earth and give us his teachings and his example, so it moves men to obey these teachings and to find in him that strength to obey which we call salvation.
The glory of Christianity is that its salvation is not limited. It is for all who will receive it. It is that makes the study of the Bible so important—the wayfinding man may find there the word of God.

WELFARE BOARD GETS REPORTS AT LUNCHEON

ORANGE, June 27.—Tales of sacrifice, of thought for others even less fortunate than themselves were unfolded by Mrs. Lillian Weitenman at the regular luncheon meeting of the Orange Community Welfare board yesterday, as she recounted the struggles of a father and mother of a family of 10 children to weather the period of depression without accepting aid of any sort if they could possibly avoid it.
Mrs. Weitenman said that the mother of the family had said she did not want to take money from the county unless it was absolutely necessary, as so many others were more needy than they. The father and mother of the family work whenever they find anything to do, it was stated by the welfare worker.

Two other families with small children were reported in great need by the worker. One of the families includes two small children and the father though ill, is making an effort to work, it was stated. All are Americans, it was said.

Mrs. Weitenman reported that during the past month she had given food and clothing to eight men and had helped three families with clothing and food. The receipts from the store were $30 and she had assisted in placing a number of persons in the hospital for treatment, she said.

W. W. Perry, president of the welfare board, presided at yesterday's meeting and Miss Edna Watson, secretary, was present for the first time in some months, having been absent owing to illness. Mrs. Parker Robertson, assistant secretary, has been acting as secretary.

Rosa Stuckey, treasurer, reported that $324.27 was in the treasury and that she had received a check for $10 from the P.E.O. and a check for an equal amount from the Woman's Relief corps.

The Woman's club will be in charge of the Welfare store next month, it was announced. Members of the Eastern Star have had charge of the past month. It was voted to dispense with luncheon meetings during the months of July and August. A recommendation is to be presented to the city council at the regular meeting of the body July 7 asking for a two weeks' vacation for Mrs. Weitenman.

Action was taken to present a vote of thanks to the members of the American Star have had charge of the past month. It was suggested that another luncheon meeting be held at the Americanization center in El Modena, the one held there recently having proved so successful an occasion.

It was reported that while conditions had improved since last winter there were still many men out of work, and that five families must be helped immediately.

Representatives for the various organizations were announced as follows: Orange union high school, A. EXPECT CROWD AT LECTURE OF DR. KIM MONDAY

ORANGE, June 27.—The lecture to be given by Dr. Chang Sei Kim at the First Presbyterian church Monday night at 7:30 o'clock is expected to draw a crowd.

Dr. Kim is a graduate of Johns Hopkins and is head of a movement to establish a great tuberculosis hospital in China. America is China's best friend, says Dr. Kim, and California is its closest friend, with only an ocean between. California's trade with China is going to be very great, he says, and therefore, the public health of China is a matter of concern to California.

"There are 10,000,000 cases of tuberculosis in China, and not one tuberculosis sanitarium," says Dr. Kim. "Each year about 900,000 Chinese die of the plague. It would be a great service for America to establish the first unit of this sanitarium, and it would so increase international friendship that it would be good business, too."

"Confessions Of A Co-Ed" At Fox Broadway Sunday

'SMART MONEY' STARS CAGNEY AND ROBINSON

Two of the toughest gangsters the movies have produced have gone into partnership in the matter of comparative, but temporary, retirement from ride-taking, spot-putting, alky-cooking and whatever other gentle inducements racketeers are supposed to dangle before their victims.

Edward G. Robinson, who muscled his way into prominence through "Little Caesar," and James Cagney through "The Public Enemy," in which each convinces one that he is so hard that machine-gun bullets would bounce off of him—have taken it on the lam and gone in for the comparative quiet life of bar-boring and gambling.

The picture which they are now playing together for Warner Bros. details the rise and fall of Nick the Barber, a Greek tongsman artist who felt that he could trim better with a deck of cards and a stack of chips than with scissors and comb.

"Smart Money," now at the Fox Broadway theater, was written by the same two writers who were responsible for "The Public Enemy"—Kubec Glasmon and John Bright. The cast also includes Evelyn Knapp, Noel Francis, Morgan Wallace, Paul Porcasi, Maurice Black, Margaret Livingston, Clark Burroughs, Billie House, Edwin Argus, Ralf Harolde, Boris Karloff, Mae Madison, Walter Percival, Larry McGrath, John Larkin, Polly Walters, Spencer Bell and Allen Lane. Alfred E. Green directed.

GAMBLER

Edwin G. Robertson, who will be remembered here as "Little Caesar," who stars in "Smart Money," now showing at the Fox Broadway theater.

DIAMONDS IN BOOK
PHILADELPHIA.—A book sent from Lyons, France, to a family in this city has unearthed a smuggling scheme which has been going on for some time. A postal clerk, thinking that the book might contain reading matter in violation of postal laws, opened the book. He found two valuable diamond earrings concealed inside.

COLLEGE STORY TELLS UNUSUAL FILM ROMANCE

"Confessions of a Co-Ed"—certainly a title for a picture that would arouse interest, but the title is only a small fraction of the entertainment the picture actually gives, according to reports from Los Angeles critics who have seen the film.

The new picture intended to be original and is, opens at the Fox Broadway theater Sunday for a four-day run.

It is the story of a campus play-boy, played unusually well by Philip Holmes, and a college co-ed, who writes in her diary the shame and heartbreak of loving unwisely. Both Holmes and Miss Sylvia Sidney, the girl in the story, give characterizations of outstanding quality and dramatic effectiveness.

"Confessions of a Co-Ed" is a timely treatment of a "hot" subject—fraternity and sorority life as it is actually lived in our universities. It has the kick of novelty, for there was never a film like it, and at the same time there is much suspense built up around the plot that will keep the audience unusually interested throughout. It has the appeal of romance, and at the same time it is a forceful drama that contains worlds of entertainment.

The story lives up to the title.

BROADWAY'S NEW SHOW

Sylvia Sidney and Philip Holmes, stars of "Confession of a Co-Ed" which opens at the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow for a four-day run. The picture is proving a sensation in Los Angeles, and is expected to be a favorite in Santa Ana.

Famous Folks Yesterday--Nobodies Now

Because they are certain their eclipse is only temporary, and they still are cheerful and awaiting another "break" in the game of life, these actors in one of Hollywood's real life dramas shall remain unnamed:

Ten years ago he was a noted director.

A few years ago she was a well-known leading woman and the wife of a famous star, now dead.

In the days of the czars he was a member of the duma and a prominent figure in Russia's political life.

Today they are three extras in Ruth Chatterton's new Paramount starring picture, "The Magnificent Lie."

LUCILE LAVERNE IN 'AMERICAN TRAGEDY'

Completing the cast of more than fifty principal speaking parts in Paramount's "An American Tragedy," Lucile LaVerne, star of "Sun Up," has been signed to play the mother of Clyde Griffiths, fate-tossed central character in the picture of Theodore Dreiser's novel.

Directed by Josef von Sternberg, "An American Tragedy" is being brought to the screen with Phillips Holmes, Sylvia Sidney, Frances Dee and Irving Pichel in the featured roles.

BREA P. O. TO STAY IN CRAIG BUILDING

BREA, June 27.—Isaac Craig, proprietor of the Craig building on South Pomona avenue, has received official notice from the postal department that his bid for housing the Brea post office has been accepted for a term of 10 years. The department has just completed a 10-year tenure there. The new lease was made contingent on certain remodeling and renovating as well as the addition of certain new equipment and this, according to Craig, will all be complied with in accordance with government specifications.

In France, telephone service is available in more than 30,000 of the 37,891 communities.

MARION DAVIES HERE IN "FIVE AND TEN" FILM

Beginning its new summer policy, prices at the Fox West Coast theater will be reduced Sunday to 25 cents and at the same time the quality of the pictures—all first run—will be maintained as in the past, according to Norman Sprowl, Fox theater manager here.

The first of the shows at the summer prices will be "Five and Ten," said to be the biggest and best picture that Marion Davies has ever made. It will start at the theater tomorrow and will show for three days.

The new policy, intended to be a boon for family trade, has caused widespread talk throughout the city, indicating that scores of persons will take advantage of the price, even though no more vaudeville will be seen at the theater during the summer. The final vaudeville show will be staged tonight.

There has been no indication that any but the best pictures will continue to play at the Fox West Coast theater, and a line-up of shows being booked for the near future shows that the old standard—many day and date with Los Angeles—will continue to be seen.

The new Marion Davies picture has proved a sensation in Los Angeles, where it has just opened.

The picture has as its locale New York and the principal motivation is obtained in the founding of the Rarick fortune upon a world-wide chain of 5-and-10-cent stores. As a monument to this achievement the elder Rarick builds the tallest skyscraper on earth.

His daughter, Jennifer, anxious to win the young architect, obtains the contract for him, but in so doing is misunderstood. Berry, her sweetheart, believing she tried to "buy" him, promptly weds her society rival. Tragic complications are brought about through the suicide of a young brother, heart-broken at the discovery of his mother's amours and the probable compromising of his sister.

There is an air of smartness throughout the production and Miss Davies and other feminine players add to this atmosphere with a gorgeous display of gowns designed by Gilbert Adrian. There are numerous spectacular scenes and a vast number of settings are seen in the swift action.

'RIVER'S END' SHOWS AT WALKER STATE

Last evening marked the first performance of "River's End," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production, at Walker's State theater. This picture is the most exciting of James Oliver Currier's stories of the Canadian Northwest features Charles Bickford, the screen's finest portrayal of vigorous men, in the dual role of a member of the Royal Mounted Police and as the man he pursues. Evelyn Knapp charmingly plays the part of the girl both men love. Others in the rare cast are J. Farrell McDonald, David Torrence, Walter McGrail, Zasu Pitts, Tom Santel and the child actor, Junior Coghlan. Screen play and dialogue are by the veteran Charles Kenyon. Michael Curtiz directed. "River's End" is honest melodrama, of the type that rings true. There is a great story, a fine cast, photographic perfection and the direction of a man who has proved his ability in other screen successes.

AT WEST COAST

Irene Rich and Kent Douglas, in a scene from "Five and Ten," Marion Davies new play which opens tomorrow at Fox West Coast theater.

HE DIDN'T LIKE IT

BUCHAREST.—Rumanian women are so little aroused at the actions of Premier Nicholas Jorga shown after a recent visit he paid to the department of the interior. In an examination of women employees, the Premier disapproved of the rouge used, of the "mutilated" shaven eyebrows of one woman, and the thin, slim blouse worn by another. He warned the women they would have to comply with strict style decrees or lose their jobs.

Other acts on the bill for June and Bud, a dance team; Elliott, in songs; and Billy Co and Marion Patrick. The act called "Sweet Sixteen."

On the screen is seen "The Husband," latest picture from the blonde English star, Dorothy Mackaill. She is supported by James Rennie.

Steel office furniture was manufactured in South Africa.

FINAL VOYAGE AT WEST COAST SEEN TONIGHT

Final vaudeville for Santa Ana for the time being will be seen at the Fox West Coast theater tonight. Tomorrow the new summer policy of the theater starts with reduced prices and a new picture each Sunday. Heretofore the show that has played at the theater on Saturday also will be seen Sunday.

Vaudeville here has been well received, but due to the hot weather and the new policy, no more vaudeville will be staged until next Manager Norman Sprowl announced.

The vaudeville today features Slayman Ali and company, a pair of tumblers that the Coast has talking about for some time who are appearing here for the time.

Tuning in on the Talkies

by Walthill

AS an extra bit of tough luck, an actor missed an engagement in the talkies because he had lost his voice through saying "that's good" in a poker game.

"Big Money" has been called in and even the small bills are becoming hard to get.

"Women of All Nations" will vie for popularity in a forthcoming Fox film.

George and Ira Gershwin have written the score to Guy Bolton's musical romance, "Sky Line," soon to be screened.

Ann Harding will play in "East Lynne" when Movietone brings that old favorite to the talkies.

Ann Harding Nance O'Neil, veteran actress of stage and screen, will play a featured role in "Their Mad Moment" with Dorothy Mackaill and Warner Baxter.

Good news for everybody. New movie declares "Death Takes a Holiday."

While "Sin Takes a Holiday" there will still be need for churches.

Instead of a Flat-Iron

It is said two bushels of actual war medals were used to decorate "The Queen's Husband."

He'll Still Be a Talker

"Barber John's Boy" will be renamed "Man to Man" when the little shaver comes to the screen.

"Three Girls Lost" have been found, as might be expected, in the movies.

Lucile Laverne in 'AMERICAN TRAGEDY'

Completing the cast of more than fifty principal speaking parts in Paramount's "An American Tragedy," Lucile LaVerne, star of "Sun Up," has been signed to play the mother of Clyde Griffiths, fate-tossed central character in the picture of Theodore Dreiser's novel.

"BAD MAN" AT WALKER STATE STARTS SUNDAY

"The Bad Man," coming to Walker's State theater Sunday, presents a tough situation for any heroine to be in, and an even tougher problem for a film actress to solve.

Imagine having a husband you don't love, who is plotting the ruin of the man you do love and who loves you, and then having a ruthless bandit come along to play Cupid, first for himself, then for the lover when the bandit decides to be a Santa Claus!

In its First National Vitaphone version, "The Bad Man" not only packs an even greater wallop than it did on the stage, but a remarkable all-star cast has been selected to portray the unforgettable roles, and splendid natural scenery gives breadth and movement that was lacking in stage versions.

Walter Huston shines in the title role of "The Bad Man." That powerful comedy role of Old Man Taylor, the invalid in the wheel chair, is played by O. P. Heggie. Dorothy Revier is the girl, Sidney Blackmer the husband, James Rennie is the hero, Guinn (Big Boy) Williams and Marion (Peanuts) Byron supply important comedy. Arthur Stone has a fine role and Johnny Arthur has another.

BOARDMAN CAST IN 'FAREWELL TO ARMS'

Eleanor Boardman, now featured with Paul Lukas in "Women Love Once," has been cast opposite Gary Cooper in the all-star production of Ernest Hemingway's "A Farewell to Arms," Paramount announces.

Cooper is now on his way to Italy for a brief vacation. Richard Wallace will direct production of the Hemingway best seller. First, however, he will make "The Road to Reno," co-starring Carman Barnes and Charles Rogers.
